Organic cotton products of happy temperature
You are my LIFE, always in my heart

Every child is always the heart and soul of his parents. We hope to give the next generation a pure and beautiful life. LIFE towels have not only provided consumers with high-quality products, but also a feeling of happiness and warmth. As you want to give your children a goodness, we pass it on to you through products.

We select high-quality organic cotton yarn as raw material to weave terry cloth, and design a series of organic cotton products. The processing process is non-dyed and uses environmentally friendly enzymes for desizing. The process has no chemical additions. It is a green product that is environmentally friendly to the earth. It is not easy for young children and sensitive skin allergy.

The surface of the towel fabric is treated with shearling to make the fabric feel gentle and comfortable. The embroidery design of the phrase "you are my LIFE, always in my heart" is used to convey the temperature of happiness of the product, thereby enhancing the texture and added value. We sincerely hope that the consumers can feel the product pure and back to nature, and warm feel to people and things.
